NOTICE

On account of the excellence of the work done in Norwich by the Everett Forestry Co. of Providence for many of the members of the Woman's Guild and their agreement to piace one of their large power spraying outlits on the work formerly done by the Guild, notice is given to the public that the Guild has disposed of the old apparatus, discontinuing the work, and recommen I the Everett Foresity Co. to all who are interested in the protection of their trees.

The work of the Everett Forestry Co. is graranteed for the scasson, and the company will hold taself in readiness to re-spray any of the trees free of charge if there is any danger of damage to the foliage. Three spraying outlits and sixteen workmen will be required to handle the work of the company in Norwich and the adjacent territory and on account of the volume of these operations here it will enable all to receive the most thorough scientific work at a nominal cost.

Trees examined and advice given absolutely without cost.

IN SUPERIOR COURT May Term Opens With Case Where Boy Was Killed by Horse Stepping on His Head.

Frank Thompson, negro, otherwise known as Ossie Van Lue, was held Wednesday for action at the next term of superior court for the murder of Charles Glaze on May 15 in West Mystic. Thompson was committed to the county jail to await trial.

The hearing was before Judge Prederick P. Latimer in the Groton town court. On being put to plea it was ascertained that accused is a miner, so Attorney Richard P. Freeman, who is associated with Attorney Daniel M. Cronin for the defense, was appointed guardian ad litem. Thompson pleaded not suilty to the charge. He will be 21 years of age next October and claims Georgia as his native place.

Story of the Killing. The May term of the superior court opened in this city Wednesday morning with the case of John J. Kelley, administrator, vs. the F. L. Bradbury corporation of Bridgeport. This is a for $5,000 damages for the death of the son of the plaintiff, who on March 14, 1910, was badly injured at New London. It is claimed that the defendant corporation keeps a horse in New London. It is claimed that the defendant corporation keeps a horse in New London, where it does a doughnut business, and that the horse was being fed in the yard at the rear of the restaurant which the plaintiff keeps. It is claimed it was not hitched by a halter, but had a feed bag on its head. The Kelley child, aged 3, was playing in the yard and was knocked down by the horse and steeped on, injuring the in the yard and was knocked down by the horse and stepped on, injuring the child about the head so badly that death resulted on August 20.

A plan of the yard and location of the spot where the accident happened was explained by Englineer Robt, Gortion of Niantic, and photographs of the yard were shown by Frank Hale.

John J. Kelley testified that he was called by his wife after the child had been injured. He said the child was accustomed to play in the yard, and he described the yard. He later told of the noises in that section.

Walter L. Bolles testified that he worked where he saw the Kelley child playing in the yard. The child had come to the window where he was and said he had to go home. The child started, and in a short time he heard Mrs. Kelley calling for her husband and saw her with the boy in her arms. Testimony was given by W. A. Miller, James B. K. Kiley, Charles J. W. Frick, Richard J. Barry and Mrs. Beatrice Kelley.

and Dr. Arthur H. Meyers of Mystic. No witnesses were introduced by the defense. Gladys Earl testified that she had lived in West Mystic over a year and that she was housekeeper for Thomas Eccleston, in whose house thet alleged murder was committed. She was in the house on May 15 when Annie Lewis and Frank Thompson arrived there about 3 p. m. At that time Charles Glaze was asieep in the front room, There were in the house at that time one quart and one pint of whiskey. Lewis and Thompson had a drink and then asked for something to eat. They were then shown around the place by Eccleston, came back into the house, had a few more drinks and started to sing, waking Charles Giaze up, Glaze joinee in the singing, had a drink, smoked a cigarette, and went back to bed.

Gladys then testified to Eccleston giving her $2 to pay bills with She and went back to bed.

Gladys then testified to Eccleston giving her $7 to pay bills with. She put the money in a pocket in her sweater. The money had been given her about 2 o'clock, and she at first put it in her socks, but they were short and she changed it, putting it first in a button box and later in her sweater. Frank Thompson and Anuic Lewis saw her make the change. She told them in the house she was going to Mystic to buy grocerles. At this time Glaze woke up and said she was not going to Mystic but to New London. He put his arm around her and took the money from her pocket and insisted upon accompanying her and Annie Lewis to Mystic. He had $2 of his own at the time. Witness bought a pint of whiskey at Foley's salvon W. Frick, Richard J. Barry and Mrs. Beatrice Kelley.
Dr. Ross E. Black of New London testified to being called to attend the boy testified to his face being cut and punctured. The injuries, in his opinion, were caused by the shoe of a horse. The skull was pressed out of shape, and after cleaning the wounds the boy was sent to the hospital. Otherwise he was in good physical condierwise he was in good physical condi-
